We made a mobile application for children with autism spectrum disorder to help them with eating different types of food.